October 23, 2025, Issue 2025:17 (occasional)

Join us this Sunday for worship at 10:30!
Rev. Trip will be preaching:

"A Quarter Hour"
Matthew 11:28-30
Psalm 46:1-7

The choir offertory is "Softly and Tenderly." The cello/piano duet at the end of the service is the spiritually-uplifting "There's Something about that Name."

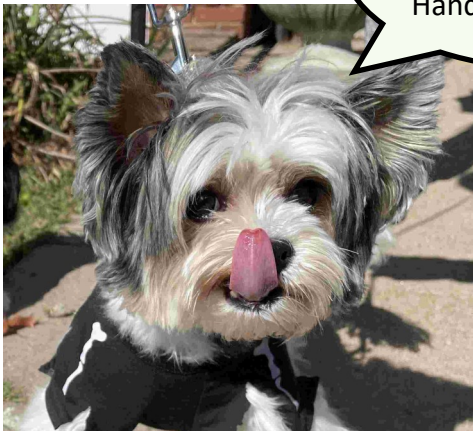

This Sunday is Trip's third (and concluding) sermon in a series based on church buildings. This church in Amsterdam is nicknamed "De Papegaai" (The Parrot) because it was originally hidden in a garden behind a regular housefront that belonged to a bird-trader. Come Sunday and find out the intriguing and inspiring story of this church!

This Sunday, October 26, is Reformation Sunday when we give thanks for Martin Luther posting his 95 Theses that triggered the Protestant Reformation. It all began on All Hallow's Eve (now called Halloween), in 1517.

Vonda, you create such lovely bouquets to adorn our sanctuary. Thank you!

See page 2 for news about Hearts and Hands!

See page three for a poster to print and share! We need cars to open their trunks and pass out candy and people to help with the pumpkin painting inside. Lunch provided for helpers! Call Amy Williams!
